

Liminal Village – Virgílio Ferreira

“Liminal Village is the heart of knowledge of an utopia’s path, which was born from the effects brought by a global society and the planetary transformations inflicted upon us. It also reveals itself as the effect that McLuhan defined for the “global village” as neo-tribalism. There reside the purposes of creating the conditions for a sustained growth, a positive exchange and the lifestyles of an aware contemporary world population, through the dedication to returning to a reachable natural state and through creative inspiration.”

Maria do Carmo Serén, 2005

(Excerpt of the text from the catalogue of the exhibition Liminal Village at Galeria ImagoLucis, 2005)